Note for the Reader.

The present is the eleventh volume of the Registers of the Diocese of Lichfield which has been completed by the Shropshire Parish Register Society. It consists of the Registers of Wroxeter, Hodnet, and Weston under Red Castle.

In this volume, as has been the plan adopted by the Council throughout, the Registers are not printed verbatim et literatim, but in abstract form, all mere verbiage being omitted, though every fact is recorded, and all occurrences, remarkable events, terriers, &c., given in the Registers are printed in full. The following abbreviations have been adopted:—

aff.	—	affidavit	gent.	—	gentleman.
b.	—	bachelor (or born).	lic.	—	license.
bap.	—	baptized.	mar.	—	married.
bur.	—	buried.	p. (or par.)	—	parish.
chr.	—	christened.	p.	—	pauper
ch. w.	—	churchwardens.	s.	—	son.
clk.	—	clerk.	sp.	—	spinster.
co.	—	county.	w.	—	wife.
d.	—	daughter.	wid.	—	widow.
dioc.	—	diocese.	widr.	—	widower.
esq.	—	esquire.	wit.	—	witnesses.

A capital letter after “of” or “p.” denotes the parish whose particular Register is being printed; thus “of W.” = “of Wroxeter,” and “p. H.” = “parish of Hodnet.”

Thanks are due to the Revs. R. Steavenson and J. A. Sharrock for leave to print the Registers, and for facilities afforded in their transcription and collation. Also to the Rev. C. H. Drinkwater, Mr. T. R. Horton, and the Rev. J. A. Sharrock for transcribing and collating.

Since the Hodnet Register was printed, Mr. A. Heber-Percy, the lord of the manor and patron of Hodnet, and a member of the Council of the Society, who most generously contributed towards the cost of printing the Register of his parish, passed away on May 12th to the great regret of all who knew him.

Wroxeter Registers.

WROXETER is charmingly situated on elevated ground, near the eastern banks of the Severn, and is surrounded by a rich and beautiful country; it is a parish of the supremest interest, because of the great associations which belong to it owing to the Roman occupation of Shropshire; it lies six miles south-east from Shrewsbury, and is in the hundred of South Bradford, rural deanery of Wrockwardine, archdeaconry of Salop, and diocese of Lichfield. It comprises the townships of Wroxeter, Donnington, Dryton, Eyton-on-Severn, Norton and Rushton; and it contains within its area the site of the ancient city of Uriconium, which covered about one hundred and seventy acres. Its total area is 5,953 acres, and its population in 1801 was 544, and in 1901, 499 in the ecclesiastical and 566 in the civil parish.

Nennius tells us that the British name of Wroxeter was Caer Guricon (in old Welsh, Wrycon). The Romans called it Uriconium, or Vriconium. In Domesday it is Rochecestre, and in 12th century charters Wroxcestre and Wroccestre. The prefix is connected with Wrekin, which is a Celtic word, and is variously interpreted as meaning "the conspicuous hill," and also as being a feminine personal name; whilst the terminal is the Anglo-Saxon ceaster, a fortress, a word generally applied by the Anglo-Saxons to the ruins of Roman cities.

The tribe of the Cornavii had their habitation here until in the first century the Romans subdued them, and established a great walled city, with stately buildings of stone, and public baths and a basilica. In 410 the Roman legions withdrew, and in 584 the West Saxons, under the command of Ceawlin and Cutha, pushed up the Severn, and it is believed, captured Uriconium, and destroyed it by fire. The coins that have been dug up are not, however, of a later date than 383. Whenever Uriconium is systematically excavated, as Silchester has been, it is certain that much new light will be thrown on the Roman occupation of Britain.

In Saxon times Toret held Wroxeter, and five other Shropshire manors. At the Domesday survey, Rainald the Sheriff held Rochecestre in demesne under Earl Roger de Montgomery. It was a manor of one hide, and was worth 40s. per annum. Rainald came from Bailleul-en-Gouffern, in Normandy, and held seventy manors in Shropshire under the Norman Earl. He was succeeded by Alan Fitz Flaad, the ancestor of the royal Stewarts, and of the Fitz Alans, who became lords of Wroxeter and had a residence here. The manor remained with the Fitz Alans until 1561, when Henry, Earl of Arundel, conveyed it to Queen Elizabeth. The Queen in the following year granted the manor to Thomas Poyner and William Wolriche. In 1589, Thomas Poyner conveyed his moiety to Francis Wolriche. In 1626 Thomas and George Wolryche alienated the manor of Wroxeter to Thomas Otley. From the Otleys it passed soon after to the Newports, with whom it remained until 1735, when the 3rd Earl of Bradford left it in trust for John Newport, alias Harrison; and on his death in 1783 it came to Sir William Johnstone in right of his wife Frances Pulteney, cousin of the Earl of Bath. On the death of Sir William Johnstone, who took the name of Pulteney, in 1805, the manor passed to William Henry Vane, 3rd Earl of Darlington, who was created in 1833 Duke of Cleveland. On the death of the 4th Duke in 1891, it came to Lord Barnard, who is now the lord of the manor, and who owns practically the whole of Wroxeter, with the exception of the township of Norton, which belongs to Lord Berwick.

Eyton-on-Severn, in Domesday Aitone (from the Saxon ea, water, and ton), was afterwards called Eyton Abbots. In Edward the Confessor's time it belonged to Leofric, Earl of Mercia. Earl Roger gave it to Shrewsbury Abbey, and it was a manor of 8½ hides. Henry III. gave the monks in 1256 a charter of free-warren here. Aston near the Wrekin, Siwaldeton (now lost), Rushton, Donnington, and Dryton, were all members of Eyton. At the dissolution of the Abbey, the rents of Eyton were nearly £64 per annum. Sir Thomas Bromley bought Eyton from the King, and from him it passed to the Newportes (by the marriage of Margaret Bromley and Sir Richard Newport), who had their mansion here. There was a chapel at Eyton, which was served by the Vicars of Wroxeter. The famous Lord Herbert of Chirbury was born at Eyton on 3rd March, 1582-3, at the house of his grandmother, Dame Margaret Newport, and he and his brother George Herbert, the poet, passed much of their boyhood there. The Abbots of Shrewsbury had a country house at Eyton, which seems to have been rebuilt by Sir Francis Newport, the builder of High Ercall Hall. A walled garden still shows the site of this house, which was burnt down in the 18th century. The present house has been added to one of the 16th century terrace pavilions, the fellow one standing still in its original condition at the opposite end of the terrace. Traces of the pleasaunce by the river, and the avenue of Spanish chestnuts show the importance of the house, which was for generations a chief seat of the Newport Family.

At Donnington was a Free Grammar School, which was founded in 1627 by Thomas Alcocke, for forty scholars. Its headmasters frequently held the perpetual curacy of Uppington. Amongst the headmasters were Goronwy Owen, the Welsh poet, and Dr. John Douglas, Bishop of Salisbury; and amongst its prominent scholars were Richard Baxter, Lord Newport and his brother, Dr. Richard Allestree, Canon of Christ Church and Provost of Eton, and in more modern days Colonel George Rowland Edwards. The old school buildings and land were sold to the late Admiral Jenkins. Charlton Hill, long the residence of the Jenkins family, is in the township of Donnington. The first of that family to live there was Richard Jenkins, who in 1650 distinguished himself as a member of the Embassy to Russia, and who on his return to England settled near the then Lord Newport.

The old residence of the Staniers, known as 'The Cottage, is situate on the right hand side of the road leading from Atcham to Wroxeter Church, near the bank of the river Severn. John Stanier, the first to come into Shropshire, married a daughter of Robert Allestree of Uppington, and sister of Dr. Richard Allestree. Another old house is Oatley's, on the south side of the Church; over the doorway are the initials R.A.C. [? for Roger and Ann Clayton], and the date 1690; whilst in the garden are some Roman pillars and other remains, collected by a former tenant.

The Church of St. Andrew at Wroxeter was originally a Collegiate foundation, and at the Domesday Survey there were four priests here, and a Church. William Fitz Alan in 1155 gave the advowson of the Church of Wroxeter to the Monastery of Haughmond, which he had founded, but for two hundred years his successors withheld the advowson from the Abbey, and it was not until 1347 that the three rectors or portioners were dissolved, and Wroxeter was appropriated to Haughmond, and the first vicar appointed. In 1291, the Church was worth £23 6s. 8d. per annum, and the three rectors received respectively 20, 10, and 5 marks; whilst in 1534-5 the vicar received £11 8s. od., the Abbot of Haughmond £8, and the Chantry Chaplain £2 yearly. Richard le Clerk of Wroxeter in 1307 obtained leave from the King to grant lands in Wroxeter to a Chaplain of St. Mary in the Church there. A similar licence was granted seven years later. The Chantry Certificate of 20th November, 1548 mentions "the servey off Saynt Maries, wthin the parishe church off Wroxetter founded of one prieste, to celebrate and assyste the curat ther for ever."

Wroxeter Church consists of chancel, nave, south aisle with porch, and an embattled western tower. The north wall of the nave is of Saxon work, and is composed of very large stones, doubtless brought from Uriconium. At a later date, the south aisle was built, perhaps for the chantry of St. Mary which existed here as early as 1307,—but it was taken down and rebuilt in 1763. The tower was built in the 16th century, but many stones of earlier dates were used in its erection. It was restored, and the south porch built, in 1890. The chancel is of late Norman or Transitional work, and was erected about 1190. Four of the original round-headed windows remain, but others have been replaced by Perpendicular windows. The priest's doorway is Transitional, and contains some well cut dog-tooth mouldings. In the north wall is an Easter sepulchre recess, surmounted by a trefoil arch with a row of ball-flowers.¹ The shaft of an early cross is built into the south wall, and other fragments are inside the Church.

In the chancel is a fine series of monuments of the Newport family. There are three altar tombs, brilliantly coloured. (1) Sir Thomas Bromley, knight, lord chief justice of England, and one of the executors of Henry VIII., who died 15th May, 1555, dressed in legal costume and head-dress, with collar of SS., and Dame Isabel (Lyster), his wife. (2) Sir Richard Newport, knight, one of the Queen's council in the Marches of Wales, who died 12th September, 1570, dressed in Elizabethan armour and rounded sabots, and Dame Margaret his wife. She was the only child and heiress of Sir Thomas Bromley, and died in August, 1598. Three sons and four daughters and a shrouded figure are represented on the tomb. (3) John Barker, of Haughmond, esquire, in Elizabethan armour, with the iron gauntlets of a funeral achievement upon the hands, and Margaret his wife, second daughter of Sir Francis Newport. She died 12th March, 1618, aged 33, and he "fell sick the next day following and deceased the xvii day after," aged 40 years. A slab on the south wall commemorates Andrew Newport, the second son of Sir Richard Newport, a barrister-at-law, and M.P. for Shrewsbury, who died in July, 1610, aged 48. In the south-east corner is a marble monument to Francis Newport, first Earl of Bradford, who died 19th September, 1708, in his 89th year, and to his wife and children. One of these was Thomas, Lord Torrington, who was buried at Wroxeter 12th June, 1719. A slab on the chancel floor commemorates Anne, Lady Torrington, his relict, who died 17th February, 1734; and there are other inscriptions, to Catherine, Lady Herbert, relict of Henry, Lord Herbert of Cherbury, who died 24th April, 1716; Andrew Newport, died 9th September, 1693; Francis Newport, died 9th March, 1690; Hon. Andrew Newport, Esq., died 11th September, 1699, aged 76; Hon. Richard Newport, Esq., died 3rd December, 1716, in his 30th year; William Newport, Esq., died 4th December, 1711, in his 16th year; besides memorials to the Revds. Edmund Dana and Edward Egremont, Vicars of Wroxeter, and to the Jenkins, Stanier, Scott, Gibbons, and other families. There are three small brasses, one to Thomas Alcocke, yeoman, who died 5th March, 1627, and gave a bell to Wroxeter, and left money for the free grammar school there; the others are to the Edwards and Corfield families, both 18th century.

The Communion Table is Jacobean, but was altered in 1702 and 1704, and enlarged. The Communion rails are dated 1637. There is an aumbry in the east wall, and another with a groove for a shelf in the north wall. The font is apparently a Roman column base turned upside down, the basin being 3 ft. 8 ins. in diameter. A good deal of re-building on the south side took place about 1763; a Brief issued in 1759, asking for £1,254, brought in £265 9s. 5½d.; £80 was borrowed from parochial charities; and £347 was spent on the work done. About a hundred years later the Church was restored; and again in 1890 the Duke of Cleveland expended £610 on the tower and south porch. There are six bells, two of which are dated 1598, three others 1641, 1666, and 1673, and the remaining one was cast in 1877.

The Certificate of Church Goods, dated 2nd June, 3 Edward VI., gives this list:— "Wroxeter. iij belles of oone accorde and oone other belle called a saunse belle, oone chaleys of sylver withe a patten; oone crosse covered withe silver." A later return of chalices and bells, dated 4th May, 7 Edward VI., has this:—"Rockseter. Four bells, one sanctus bell, one chalice of silver with the paten." At the Religious Census of 1676, there were at Wroxeter 286 Conformists, no Papists, and one Nonconformist, above the age of sixteen.

The Abbot and Convent of Haughmond presented to the Vicarage, until the dissolution of the monastery. In 1545 Henry VIII. conveyed the advowson to Adam Ottley. In 1607 Thomas Ottley sold it to Sir Francis Newport. From the Newports it passed like the manor to the Pulteneys, and from them it passed to the Dukes of Cleveland, and Lord Barnard is now patron.

The following list of the Incumbents of Wroxeter is derived chiefly from Eyton's Antiquities of Shropshire, Blakeway's MSS. Parochial Clergy in the Bodleian Library, and the Libri Institutionum in the Public Record Office.

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 contains this account of the Registers: "Wroxeter V., No. I. Register, 1613—1681, deficient until No. II., 1700—1748; No. III., 1749—1812." This account is only accurate as regards Nos. I. and II. There are in reality five Registers to the year 1812.

The earliest volume is a vellum book of seventeen leaves in a vellum cover, 18 inches by 10½ inches. Inside the cover are entries for 1613; then a leaf is missing, containing entries 1614 to 1618,—which has been lost during the last fifty years,—and it goes on to 1681. In places it is stained and undecipherable from damp. The bottom of the sixteenth leaf, containing six entries, has been cut out, in order to use the blank vellum on the back. The heading "The Register, &c., continued," shows that there was an earlier register, now lost. The register was extremely well written, in excellent Latin, during Vicar Garbet's time; he continued to hold office during the Commonwealth, and died March 26th, 1659. In 1655—7, marriages are entered as solemnized before Justices of Shrewsbury,—Charles Benyon, Thomas Hayes, and Richard Bagot, esquires. Prior to 1660 the entries are mixed, but from this year baptisms, marriages and burials are entered separately. From 1656 onwards the entries are generally written in English. The Vicar and Churchwardens usually sign each year. In 1658 and later, about a dozen Briefs are entered in the Register. In 1621 one John Drakford is mentioned as having been "suspended for sacrilege at Shrewsbury." The volume is full of entries relating to the great family of Newport from 1619; and other important families are those of Bromley, 1627, Barker 1636, Jenkins 1669, Wheeler 1671, Wolrych 1672, Berrington, 1672, and Stanier 1678. Sir Henry Littleton, Bart., was married here in 1665. After 1681 there is a gap until 1700.

Volume II. extends from 1700 to 1748; it is a book of forty parchment leaves, in a brown leather cover, the clasps missing, size 12½ by 8 inches. It is in various handwritings and is in good condition. Inside the front and back covers is an interesting list of Mortuaries paid on the burial of certain persons, the sum paid being 10s. each burial. Besides the families of Newport, Jenkins and Stanier, those of Corfield, Lee, Newcomb, Pemberton, and Smitheman, are styled "gent." or "Mr." Amongst the burials are those of Francis, Earl of Bradford, in 1708; Catherine, Dowager Lady Herbert of Cherbury, 1716; and Thomas, Lord Torrington, 1719.

Volume III. is a book of 24 vellum leaves written on and 4 others blank, size $13\frac{3}{4}$ by $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches, in a vellum cover. It begins in 1748, and contains marriages to 1754, baptisms to 1774, and burials to 1812. Inside the covers is a list of Mortuaries, 1749 to 1808. On the cover is written: "Wroxeter Register, 1748. Churchwardens: Ja. Prichard, John Munslow," and on the back: "Baptisms, Wroxeter, Burials." Robert Cartwright, Vicar, signs from 1748 to 1772, and Edmund Dana, Vicar, from 1774 to 1812.

Volume IV. is a book of 14 vellum leaves written on, and 16 others blank, size $16\frac{1}{2}$ by $8\frac{3}{4}$ inches, in a vellum cover. On the back is written: "Baptisms, 1772, Wroxeter." It contains entries of baptisms from 1772 to 1812. It is well written, and the date of birth are generally entered, as well as of baptism. Edmund Dana, Vicar, signs throughout.

Volume V. is a Marriage Register, from 1754 to 1812, and contains the usual printed forms, three on each page. It is a paper book in a vellum cover, size $14\frac{1}{2}$ by $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches, and on the back is written "Marriages, Wroxeter." 180 entries are filled up. Robert Cartwright, Vicar, usually signs the register from 1754 to 1772, James Cope, Minister, in 1772 and 1773, and Edmund Dana from 1774 to 1812.

The entries from 1613 to 1660 are printed in full, and from 1660 in the usual abbreviated form.

The earliest volume was transcribed by the Rev. C. H. Drinkwater, and the other four volumes by Mr. T. R. Horton. They have been carefully collated, and seen through the press, by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A. They are now printed by the kind permission of the Rev. Robert Steavenson, the present Vicar of Wroxeter, and the cost has been generously defrayed by Mrs. Seymour, as part of her gift to the Society, in memory of her brother the late Mr. Stanley Leighton, M.P.

Hodnet Registers.

HODNET is a large parish and village, situate on the main road from Shrewsbury to Market Drayton, in the diocese of Lichfield, archdeaconry of Salop, rural deanery of Hodnet, and hundred of Bradford North. It lies thirteen miles North-East from Shrewsbury, and six from Market Drayton. It comprises the townships of Hodnet, Wollerton, Marchamley, Weston-under-Red Castle, Peplow, Hawkstone, Kenstone, Lostford, Little Bolas, and Hopton and Espley. Its area is 11,595 acres, and the population in 1901 was 1,509 in the civil parish and 1,731 in the ecclesiastical parish. The village of Hodnet is remarkably picturesque, and it contains some interesting black and white houses.

Hodnet (or Odenet), was a place of the greatest importance in Shropshire. In Saxon times it was a royal manor, and belonged to King Edward the Confessor, and it was the caput of the Domesday Hundred of Odenet which retained that name until the reign of Henry I., when with the Hundred of Recordine it became Bradford Hundred. The Conqueror gave the manor and hundred of Odenet to Earl Roger de Montgomery, who held it in demesne. On the rebellion of his son Robert de Belesme, and the forfeiture of his estate, in 1102, it came to Henry I., as a manor of Palatine demesne. King Henry I. founded the Honour of Montgomery, which consisted of many manors in Shropshire and elsewhere; and it is probable that he also founded the Seneschalcy of Montgomery, an hereditary office, which he endowed with the manor of Hodnet and with certain other manors or vills (including Peplow, Little Bolas, Horton, &c.), which were henceforth reputed members of Hodnet. The first Seneschal, whose name is unrecorded, was the ancestor of the powerful family of de Hodnet, which derived the name from this its principal possession. The manor continued in the de Hodnet family until the early part of the fourteenth century, when, on the death of William de Hodnet, it passed to the de Ludlow family, by the marriage (about the year 1300) of his daughter and heiress, Matilda de Hodnet, to William de Ludlow, son of Laurence de Ludlow the builder of Stokesay Castle.

The de Hodnets built here a strong castle, on the site of an ancient moated mound which dates from early British times, and was used later both by Romans and Saxons. About the year 1892 the site was excavated by Major Heber-Percy, and the spade has shown that the de Hodnets adopted the Saxon fortress, and built a strong castle with walls of squared stones. Many of the stones found in the excavations bear traces of fire. The Keep, with its well, and foundation work of stone, is plainly visible. The castle was one of considerable magnitude, and it is thought that it was originally built by Odo de Hodnet, a descendant of the Fitz Warins. The area of the castle was quadrangular, surrounded by a moat, and on the south side by a large pool, now dry. On the north side was the outer court or bailey, and on the South side a second enclosure of oval form, which was the ancient Saxon hal, or hall. The inner moat was cut through the solid sandstone rock; at the bottom of it a quantity of broken pottery, and bones of the ox, horse, wolf or dog, and boar, were found. On the east side the base of a Norman building, of good solid masonry 2½ feet thick, was uncovered, and resting on it a wall of three courses, 33½ feet long. On the east side is a similar wall, 20 feet long, running north and south. The draw-bridge over the inner moat has not been discovered. The rubble wall of the tower, 12½ feet in thickness, was opened out; and many other portions of Norman masonry were brought to light, but ages ago the bulk of the stones were taken away for buildings in the neighbourhood. The small inner court of the Keep was paved with pebbles, and from it a doorway led to the interior of the tower. Some account of the excavations written by the late Wm. Phillips, will be found in the Transactions of the Caradoc Field Club for April, 1892, and in Shropshire Notes and Queries, N.S. I., 36—37. The pool on the south side was drained when the ancient mill was taken down, but a good deal of the mill dam still remains.

King Henry III. granted by charter dated 2 July, 1250, to Odo de Hodnet, a weekly market on Tuesday, and an annual fair on the eve and day of St. Dionisius the martyr (Oct. 2 and 3). King Edward I. stayed at Hodnet Castle on 2 December, 1295, on his way from Shrewsbury to Chester. Edward II., in 1321 or 1322, placed guards in this and the neighbouring castles, owing to some disturbances, and on 13 April, 1322, he issued an order to the keeper of Hodnet Castle to amove from the castle the munition of men lately placed therein by the King, and to keep or sell the stores of victuals. The same year John de Felton had the custody of the Red Castle and the Manor of Hodnet committed to him. In 1327, eleven persons from Hodnet were assessed to the Lay Subsidy, ten from Peplow, five from Little Bolas, fourteen from Wollerton, and eleven from Hopton and Espley.

King Charles II., by patent dated 22 April, 1666, confirmed Henry III.'s grant of a market and fair, and in addition granted to Sir Henry Vernon, Bart., free warren in the demesne lands of his manor of Hodnet, and another fair or market within the manor on May 4th annually.

The Odenets or Hodnets continued lords of Hodnet until 1301, when it passed to Matilda de Ludlow, the daughter and sole heiress of William de Hodnet, and wife of William de Ludlow. From the Ludlows, the manor came to Humphrey Vernon (third son of Sir Henry Vernon, of Haddon and Tong), by his marriage with Alice Ludlow, daughter and heiress of Sir John Ludlow, K.G. Humphrey Vernon died in 1542, and was buried in the College of Tong. The Vernons were lords of Hodnet until 1752, when Henrietta Vernon devised the estate to her cousin Elizabeth, wife of Thomas Heber, of Marton, and daughter of John Atherton, of Atherton, whose wife Elizabeth was grand-daughter and heiress of Sir Henry Vernon, Bart. In 1846, Hodnet passed to Emily, the elder daughter of Reginald Heber, Bishop of Calcutta, and wife of Algernon Charles Heber-Percy, Esq. (son of Bishop Percy, of Carlisle); and on her death in 1902, it came to the present lord of the manor and patron, Major Algernon Heber-Percy, who served the Office of High Sheriff of Shropshire in 1908.

Thus, since the reign of Henry I., Hodnet has passed in direct lineal descent, through the Odenets, Ludlows, Vernons, and Hebers, to the present proprietor, who is the hereditary seneschal of Montgomery Castle.

There have been three chief houses in Hodnet. The first was the castle, surrounded by a moat already referred to. When it was destroyed or dismantled is not known, but it seems probable that fire was the cause of its destruction. Then came the old Hodnet Hall, which was a very extensive old black and white house, with cloisters, standing in a deer-park of considerable size. Over the cloisters was a long range of rooms, surmounted by pointed gables, and supported by ten wooden pillars and arches. These cloisters were filled in sometime in the 18th century, to form other rooms. The main part of the house lay to the right of the cloisters at right angles, and it was surmounted by six pointed gables. This house was taken down about 1870. On the south-west side is a dovecote, with the date 1656, which is still standing. The stable wing of the house also remains. Sir Richard Vernon, Bart., the last male representative of the Vernons of Hodnet, felled most of the timber in the park, and removed the deer. He also sold a considerable portion of the estates to the Right Hon. Richard Hill, of Hawkstone. The present hall was erected by the late A. C. Heber-Percy, Esq., in the year

1870, and it is a spacious house built in the Elizabethan style of architecture. The large entrance hall contains a magnificent collection of heads of big game, shot by the present proprietor, or by his sons and brothers, and many objects collected by him during his travels in the East and in America. There is a fine collection of portraits of the Vernons, Athertons, and Hebers, by Zucchero, Zeeman, Lely, Reynolds, and other artists.

Although Peplow and other townships have for centuries been accounted members of Hodnet, it is presumed that they have not lost their Domesday status of "manors." An extent of the manor of Hodnet made in 1598, after the death of John Vernon, showed that he held the manor of Hodnet with its members (viz. : Lostford, Peplow, Parva Bolas, and Preston), value £50 4s. ; the manor of Moston and Espley, value £4 ; the manor of Westbury, value £14 14s. ; a messuage in Salop, value 12s. ; two messuages in Alberbury, value 50s. ; the manor of Twyford, co. Hereford. ; the grange of Brocton, co. Stafford ; and the hundred of Andover, Hants. ; the total value being £121 2s. 7d. The Hodnet Court Rolls, temp., James I., show that Espley, Longford, Peplow, Moston, and Bolas parva, did suit and service to the lord of Hodnet. In 1667, Sir Henry Vernon, and Thomas, his son, conveyed the manors of Hodnet, Peplow, and Longford, upon certain trusts. Wollerton was a separate manor ; and the lord still holds separate courts for Hodnet and Wollerton.

Wollerton, in Domesday Ulretton, was held of Earl Roger by Gerard de Tournay, whose daughter and heiress Sybil married Hamo Peverel. Peverel and his wife granted the manor to Shrewsbury Abbey. At the dissolution of the Abbey, Wollerton was worth £14 5s. per annum, and the Abbot of Combermere had a charge of 3s. 4d. on the mill there. The de Odenets held Wollerton as feoffees of Shrewsbury Abbey. It seems to have passed, like Hodnet, to the Ludlows and Vernons, and was presumably sold by one of the Vernons to the Lochards. In 1689, William Lochard devised it to Thomas Burrowes, of Stoke-on-Tern, who is styled lord of the manor in a court roll of 1710. He left it to his nephew, Thomas Dicken, who occurs lord of the manor in 1749 and 1769. Thomas Dicken married Sarah Wingfield, of Preston Brockhurst, and died in 1775, leaving an only daughter and heiress, Jane Dicken, who married the Rev. Richard de Courcy. Mr. and Mrs. de Courcy are styled lord and lady of the manor in 1776, but sold it before 1780 to the Rev. Reginald Heber. Wollerton Hall also belonged to the Lochards, and to Thomas Dicken, but was sold by William Massey and others in 1816 to Richard Heber, and is now the property of Major A. Heber-Percy, the lord of the manor of Wollerton.

Hopton and Espley and Hopley were also originally members of Marchamley. The two latter vills, and half of Hopton, were held under Reginald the Sheriff by Walter. About 1155 Hopley passed to Haughmond Abbey. Hopton and Espley were held by tenants, who took the names of de Hopton and Espley. About 1280 both places were conveyed to Sir Odo de Hodnet or his son William Hodnet, and they became members of Hodnet. The other half of Hopton (Hotune in Domesday), was held by Roger de Lacy, and was given by his tenant Elias de Say to Haughmond Abbey. Hopton and Espley have descended, with Hodnet, through the Ludlows, Vernons, and Hebers, to Major Heber-Percy, the present proprietor.

Little Bolas has been a member of Hodnet since the reign of Henry I. William de Hodnet held it in 1284, and in 1316 it was found that William de Ludlow had died seised of it. The manorial boundaries of Bolas Parva are still regularly walked, when the manor court of Hodnet is held.

Longford, in Moreton Say parish, was perhaps the only member of Hodnet at Domesday. The other townships were subsequent additions.

Peplow, in Domesday Book Papelau, was held under Earl Roger by Ralph de Mortimer, but was soon forfeited by him for rebellion, and was then held in demesne by Earl Hugh de Montgomery, and became a member of Hodnet, together with Little Bolas, Preston, Horton, &c. With Hodnet it passed to the de Odenets. In 1292, Richard de Hodnet, who had acquired the premises by fine from Odo de Hodnet twelve years before, was presented at the Assizes as holding half the vill of Peplow, value 40s. a year, the legality being questioned as an alienation of part of the Serjeantry of Hodnet. It was settled by his paying a chief-rent of 15s. to the Crown for the same. From the Hodnets, Peplow passed to the Ludlows and Vernons. It remained with the Vernons until 1715, when Sir Richard Vernon sold it for £5,000 to his steward, Hugh Pigot, a Cheshire man and not one of the Chetwynd Pigotts. About 1800, Robert Pigot sold Peplow to Thomas Clarke, of Liverpool, for £45,000; and at Clarke's death it was sold to Arthur Clegg, Esq., of Manchester, for £60,000. His grand-daughter Anne Clegg, a great heiress, married in 1831 the second Viscount Hill. In 1873 the Peplow estate was purchased by Francis Stanier Phillip Broade, Esq., of Biddulph, (afterwards Francis Stanier,) and at his death in 1900 it passed to his son Beville Stanier, M.P. for Shropshire (Newport Division). Peplow Hall was re-built in 1725, and enlarged in 1886. The Peplow Hall Museum contains a large collection of British birds and eggs, mammals, heads, moths and butterflies, fossils, &c., and a number of bronze and stone implements found in the ruins of the Red Castle.

There was anciently a Chapel here, which was subject to Hodnet. The present private chapel of the Epiphany was built by Francis Stanier in 1879, and is a brick structure in the early English style. The corner and foundation stone was laid by Caroline Stanier in 1878, in the presence of Bishop Selwyn. After Francis Stanier's death in 1900, his family had the mural decorations on the north side, painted by Douglas Strachan, put up to his memory.

Marchamley was held at Domesday of Earl Roger, by Rainald the Sheriff; part of it being held in demesne, and part by his undertenant Walter. The lands held in demesne lay in Marchamley, Hopton, Losford, and Hawkstone; whilst those held by Walter comprised Espley, Hopley, and half of Hopton. Early in the 12th century the demesne lands were granted to a family who took the name of Marchamley, who held under the Fitz Alans, Rainald's successors. About 1190, John de Marchamley gave Hopley and a part of his wood between Kinstone and Hodnet to Haughmond Abbey. On his death, by an agreement between his two daughters and coheirs, the manor passed to the elder, Johanna, the wife of Richard de Essex, who in 1223 sold it to Henry de Audley, in whose family the manor continued. With Hawkstone, it eventually passed to the Hills, and was sold by Viscount Hill to the Right Hon. George Whiteley, M.P., Patronage Secretary to the Treasury, now Lord Marchamley of Hawkstone.

There was anciently a chapel at Marchamley, which was subject to Hodnet, and endowed with an annual pension of £3, charged on the Rectory of Hodnet. The Chantry certificates of 1548 show that Randall Dodd was then incumbent, the foundation was unknown, there was no plate or goods but 40 lbs. of bell-metal.

Weston-under-Red Castle (in Domesday Book Westunc) was held under Earl Roger by Ranulf Peverel. Edric Sylvaticus (Wild Edric) had held it before the Conquest. It escheated to the Crown, and was granted by Henry II., in 1175, to Guy le Strange. About 1200 Robert Fitz Iwein (or Baggard) laid claim to Weston, and ultimately he quit-claimed it to the three daughters and co-heiresses of Guy le Strange. Their representatives sold Weston and the Rock of Radeclif to Henry de Audley; and in 1227 Henry III. confirmed their grant, and empowered him to build the castle of Radeclif. From this time Weston was called Weston-under-Red Castle. Weston passed from the Audleys by descent to the Touchets, and afterwards to Lord Fitz Warine. King Henry VIII. granted it in 1545 to Sir Andrew Corbet, Knight. In 1600, Adolphus Cary and Anne his wife settled it on Oliver, Lord St. John. Early in the 18th century it was purchased by Sir Rowland Hill, Bart., who erected or greatly enlarged the mansion house at Hawkstone. The Red Castle was long the stronghold of the Audleys, but was dismantled or allowed to fall into decay, and it is now an imposing ruin. Hawkstone was originally a member of Marchamley, but was independent of it in 1185, and in 1420 was included among the members of Red Castle. As early as 1316, all Nicholas Audley's estates in the neighbourhood (Marchamley, Kinstone, Ightfield, Losford, &c.), were reckoned to be members of Red Castle. The Weston and Hawkstone estate continued in the Hill family until 1906, when they were purchased by Lord Marchamley.

Weston Chapel was a dependency of Hodnet, but was of considerable antiquity. Nothing of the old building remains. The present chapel was built in 1791, and restored and added to in 1879. Weston is a chapelry of Hodnet.

Losford was originally one of the members of Marchamley, and before 1098, was held under Rainald the Sheriff by Hunald, who granted two-thirds of his tithes to Shrewsbury Abbey. Later on it was held by a family who took the name of Losford. It then passed to the Audleys, and was accounted a member of Red Castle.

Bury Walls, about a mile south of Weston, is an early Celtic fortress. The main entrance is in the north-east corner. Some pre-historic arrow-heads have been found within the enclosure.

Moreton Say was ecclesiastically a chapelry of Hodnet, as early as the 12th century. It was made a perpetual curacy in 1831, and a rectory in 1874. Longford in Moreton Say parish was a member of Hodnet.

Hodnet Church, which is dedicated to St. Luke, was given by Earl Roger, with all its appurtenances, to Shrewsbury Abbey before Domesday. The transfer is thus recorded in Domesday Book :—"The Church of St. Peter holds the Church of this Manor"; and it was confirmed by William Rufus, and by Bishops Clinton and Durdent. The Abbey held the Church, until its dissolution in 1539—40, when the advowson was granted to Sir Rowland Hill, who in 1549 was Lord Mayor of London. He conveyed it to his kinsman Robert Barker of Wollerton, who sold it in 1588 to Sir Thomas Needham, of Shavington, created Lord Kilmorey; and he again sold the advowson in 1605 for £500, to Sir Robert Vernon, in whose descendants it has since remained and passed with the manor.

The Church consists of nave and chancel, a large decorated North aisle, broader than the nave and chancel (and since 1883 used for Communion), and octagonal tower at the West end of the North aisle. The Church was elaborately restored, and a good deal altered, in 1846, and again in 1883. Much of the original Norman nave remains, but in the Decorated period it was lengthened by one bay, and the chancel was built, and in 1846 new windows were inserted and the walls partly renewed. In the nave is a Norman octagonal font, with a circular base; also a Jacobean stand for chained books (Erasmus, Fox, Jewel, &c.) An arcade of seven pointed arches divides the old nave and chancel from the North aisle; the two Eastern arches are of the decorated period, the columns are modern and are round and octagonal alternately. The North wall of the aisle is mostly decorated, but the four windows are modern, and the East window is believed to be 17th century. The East end of the North aisle is called the patron's chancel; it is the private chapel of the owners of the Hodnet estate, and was probably built by the de Ludlows. The armour on the South wall is said to have been used at the funeral of the last of the Vernons [qu. Sir Richard, in 1723], but only the sword is real, the other pieces being imitation work. The mortuary chapel was erected in 1870. The remarkable octagonal tower is of the latter part of the decorated period. It contains a peal of six bells, all cast by Rudhall, in 1769. The Church Goods return of 1549 gives "iiij belles, a S'cus bell, too chales of sylver," and in 1553 "four bells and a sanctus bell, one chalice with the paten." In 1740 and 1752 there were five bells. The Chantry certificates of 1548 state that there was a stock of cattle, then valued at 32s., given towards finding a stipendiary priest to celebrate.

In 1622 an agreement was made between Sir Robert Vernon and the parishioners, by which Sir Robert (who had expended £13 6s. 8d. in repairing the "chancel on the North side" of Hodnet Church), was to have a burial space tiled with bricks, containing 26 yards and 4 feet, upon which bricks his crest or fret was impressed, he paying 6s. 8d. for each burial. Sir Robert was to have certain seats and forms for himself, his servants and friends, and the parishioners were to have the rest of the said chancel. Some of these tiles, bearing the Vernon fret, are preserved in the Church.

The chief monuments in the Church are those to the Vernon, Hill, Cholmondeley, Heber, and Heber-Percy families. A marble monument commemorates the last of the Vernons of Hodnet, Henrietta Vernon, who died 25th June, 1752. There is a beautiful recumbent figure of Blanche Emily Heber-Percy, who died in 1870,—the work of her cousin Reginald Cholmondeley; a medallion to Bishop Heber, by Chantry; and a brass to Algernon Charles Heber-Percy, Esq., and his wife, 1901. A large stone in the North aisle is the "Sepulchre of the Hills of Hawkstone, ab anno 1500"; and there are monuments to Sir Rowland Hill, Bart., 1743; Sir Richard Hill, Bart., 1808; and John Hill, Esq., 1814. There are also tablets to members of the Arneway family, 1656 and 1661; to Hugh Pigot, 1697; and to the Rev. Samuel Heyrick Macaulay, 1873.

An Elizabethan Clergy List of 1602—3, states that William Daykin was parson of Hodnet, "no degree and no preacher," and that the rectory was worth xxvj li. ixs. in the King's books. The religious census taken in 1676 gives Hodnett in Newport Deanery as containing 544 conformists, no papists, and 8 nonconformists, whilst at Weston sub Red Castle there were 143 conformists. The total population of the parish of Hodnet at that time would probably be about 1,400.

Although Hodnet Church is believed to be dedicated to St. Luke, yet in Ecton's Thesaurus it is called St. Peter and St. Paul, and so also in some early wills. William Fytz heyr of Hodnet, in 1420, bequests his body to be buried "in the Church of the Apostles Peter and Paul of Hodnet," and Thomas Bolas, in 1534, "in the churchyard of Saynt Peter in Hodnet." Perhaps this alternative dedication arose from that of the Abbey Church of Shrewsbury. From the early wills we learn that there was an "image of St. Peter" in the chancel in 1516, and an "image of the Trinitie" in the Church. In 1534, "our Lady of Hodnet" is mentioned; and in 1539 several testators bequeath money "to the gyldying of the rode seller."

In 1590, Thomas Iken, citizen and skinner, of London, a native of Hodnet, bequeathed to the parish church of Hodnet "a booke of the monimentes of the church, comenlie called the booke of Martirs, with tenn shillings in monie to buye a deske and a chaine, that it maie be for everi bodie reade uppon continuallie openlie within the saide church, and to be made fast and not to be carried awaie to anie mans proper use." (P.C.C. Wills, 22 Sainberte).

The Abbey of Shrewsbury presented the rectors until its dissolution, except during a vacancy when the King presented. Sir Robert Hill presented in 1558, Robert Barker, Esq., in 1563, and Sir Henry Vernon in 1580, since which time the lord of the manor has been patron of the advowson, and has always presented.

The old rectory stood near the hall, and, with the tithe barn, was taken down in 1812, when the present rectory was built.

The following is a list of the Rectors of Hodnet:—

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 contains the following account of the Hodnet Registers:—

“Hodnet R. No. I. Bap., Bur., 1700—1768; Mar., 1700—1753. No. II. Bap., Bur., 1769—1812. No. III. Marr., 1754—1812.” This is however, both an incomplete and incorrect account. The earliest Register, which extended from 1539 to 1650 was lost prior to 1830, and the second Register, 1656 to 1700, was then missing. This has lately been found in the parish chest by the present rector.

Volume I. of the existing Registers contains 32 parchment leaves, 16 inches by 7 $\frac{1}{4}$ inches, but there is no cover. There is one entry for 1656, then in a modern hand, "Register of the Parish of Hodnet," followed by four entries for 1657, and then the register goes on quite regularly from 1658 to 1699. It is noticeable that in this Register the new year often begins on the 1st of March instead of the 25th. From 1698 to 1700 there are notes about persons who are to pay the tax on baptisms, etc. The principal families that occur in this volume, and are designated "esq.," "gent.," or "Mr.," are these,—Vernon, Hill, Dicken, Yonge, Lochard, Piggott, Ethelstone, Turner, Causer, Atkins, Beacall, Cureton, Groome, Bather, Cole, Orpe, Wood, Johnson, Stubbs, Podmore, Higgins, Marigold, Atcherley, Walford, and Oare.

Volume II. contains 78 parchment leaves in a brown leather cover, about 11 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches by 9 inches. It contains baptisms and burials from 1700 to 1768, and marriages to 1755, those from 1717 to 1755 being at the reverse end of the volume. On the cover is this:—"A Register of Burials, Baptisms, and Marriages, of the Parish of Hodnet, from March 25th, 1700, to December 30th, 1768." The first leaf contains burials, the second baptisms, the third and fourth marriages, the fifth and remaining leaves are usually baptisms and burials alternately. The volume is in good condition; and legible throughout, and well written, the entries from 1723 to 1739 being in an engrossing hand, and from 1745 to 1766 in the bold hand of William Dicken, curate. The chief entries are those relating to the families of Vernon, Hill, Pigot and Dicken.

Volume III. is a book of 62 parchment leaves, 15 inches by 8 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches, in a leather cover. It contains baptisms and burials from 1769 to 1812. It is lettered: "A Register of Baptisms and Burials, of the Parish of Hodnet, from January 1st, 1769, to December 20th, 1812." At the beginning of the volume is a series of "Bills of Mortality," from 1766 to 1812, statistical tables of the deaths in the parish and the ages of the deceased persons. At the end is a list of the Rectors, and statistics of christenings, burials, and marriages from 1661 to 1809. From 1769 to 1798, it is most beautifully written, by James Pratchet, curate, the christian and surnames being printed by hand; and from 1798 to 1810, by Robert Crockett, curate. Reginald Heber, rector (afterwards Bishop of Calcutta), signs from 1810 to 1812. The chief families named in this volume are Hill, Dicken, Corser, Pigot, Beacall, and Pratchet.

Volume IV. contains marriages from 1754 to 1807. It is a paper book of 192 pages, 15 inches by 9 $\frac{1}{2}$ inches, in a brown leather cover with clasps. There are three printed marriage forms on each page, and a printed parchment fly-leaf. The book contains 574 marriage entries. At the end is an alphabetical index of surnames, chiefly in the handwriting of the Rev. James Pratchet.

Volume V. contains marriages from 1807 to 1812. It is a paper book of printed forms, and contains four entries of banns and marriages on each page. The cover is of brown leather, and is lettered "The Marriage Register of the Parish of Hodnet" on the back. There are only 81 marriage entries, and at the end of the book is an index of names. After the 81st entry it is stated: "The above is the last marriage before January the first, 1813, when the new Registers commence in pursuance of the Act of Parliament 52 Geo. 3rd, cap. 14, passed July 12th, 1812. Thomas C. Heber, curate, January 17th, 1813."

A few entries from the lost Register 1539—1650 have been preserved in the late Mr. Joseph Morris's M.S. Shropshire Registers, and are here given. A MS. preserved at Hodnet Hall contains "a trewe noate collected out of the Register Book of Hodnet " of the Vernon entries from 1542 to 1592.

It remains only to add that the Registers of Hodnet are printed at the joint expense of Major A. Heber-Percy, Beville Stanier, Esq., M.P., and the Right Hon. Lord Marchamley, with the consent of the Rev. J. A. Sharrock, the present Rector of Hodnet. Volumes I. to IV. were transcribed by Mr. T. R. Horton, and were collated with the original Registers, and seen through the press, by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A. Volume V. was transcribed and collated by the Rev. J. A. Sharrock.

The Register of Weston under Red Castle, in the Parish of Hodnet.

Weston under Red Castle Registers.

WESTON UNDER RED CASTLE is, with its member Wixhill, a township and chapelry of Hodnet, and some account of it has been given in the introduction to the Registers of Hodnet. In 1901 its population was 222, and its area 2,243 acres.

Weston is one of nine places of the name in Shropshire, and it lies three miles west of Hodnet, hence its name. In Saxon times it was held by Edric Sylvaticus, and was worth 60s. per annum. At the Domesday Survey, Westune was held by Ranulf Peverel under Earl Roger de Montgomery. It was a manor of three hides, and there were eight serfs, three villains, one radman, and nine boors here. For some reason unknown the manor escheated to the Crown about 1168, and in 1175 Henry II. granted it together with Alveley, to Guy le Strange, then Sheriff of Shropshire. It passed to his son Ralph le Strange, who died in 1195, leaving his three sisters his co-heiresses. Their representatives sold the Rock of Radecliff and all their land in Weston to Henry de Audley, and Henry III. on 2nd May, 1227, confirmed the grant, and three months later empowered him to build (or fortify) the Castle of Radeclif. From this time the Red Castle became the Shropshire stronghold of the Audleys, and the manor of Weston was termed Weston-under-Red-Castle. The Hundred-Roll of 1255 states that James de Alditheley holds the manor of Weston, which is 4½ hides, and pays neither stretward nor motfee, nor does it any suit to County or Hundred; further, that he assized beer in his Liberty, imprisoned persons taken within his Warren, and accepted fees for his Advowry. The Audleys became possessed not only of Weston, but also of Whixall near Prees, Marchamley, Kinstone, Ightfield, Losford, Hawkstone, and Gravenhanger, all of which estates in the later fourteenth century Inquests of the Audleys were accounted merely members of the Red Castle. On the death of Nicholas, Lord Audley in 1391, the bulk of his estates passed to his sister's son, John Touchet, who bore the title of Lord Audley. But a third part came to the Fitzwarines. In 1545, King Henry VIII. granted the manor of the Red Castle to Sir Andrew Corbet, Knt. In 1600, Adolphus Cary and Anne his wife settled it upon Oliver, Lord St. John. The manor seems to have continued for some time in the Corbet family, whilst the Red Castle and the surrounding domain was purchased early in the 18th century by Sir Rowland Hill. Long before this the Red Castle was dismantled or suffered to fall into ruins. The Keep, which is 200 feet in height, is still standing, and a portion of another tower. The remains show that this stronghold of the Audleys must have been an almost impregnable fortress.

Hawkstone seems to have belonged to the Hills as far back as 1592, and according to some authorities was purchased in 1554. The mansion house is of red brick with stone facings, and occupies three sides of a quadrangle. The house was re-built or greatly enlarged, and the wings were added in the eighteenth century by the Right Honourable Richard Hill, an eminent diplomatist, for his nephew Sir Rowland Hill, Bart. The Hills of Hawkstone were a branch of the Hills of Court of Hill, in Burford Parish. General Hill, a great soldier, and for fourteen years Commander-in-Chief of the Army, was raised to the Peerage in 1814; he was born at Prees in 1772, and died at Hardwick 10th December, 1842. The fourth Viscount Hill in 1906 sold the Hawkstone Estate, including Marchamley and Weston, to the Right Hon. George Whiteley, P.C., M.P., J.P., Patronage Secretary to the Treasury, who was on 3rd July, 1908, created Lord Marchamley of Hawkstone Hawkstone Park and domain is singularly beautiful and full of picturesque scenery.

The Religious Census made in 1676 states that there were at Weston sub Red Castle 143 conformists, no papists, and no nonconformists. The whole population would then be about 290; In 1821 there were 58 houses in Weston, with 322 inhabitants. Near the chapel is a well-preserved pair of stocks, with two stone upright side-posts.

The Chapel of Weston is an edifice of red sandstone, and consists of nave and chancel, south porch, and western tower with pinnacles. Of the mediæval chapel nothing remains. Eyton mentions several coats-of-arms as being in the chapel windows in the 16th or 17th century; and in the east window two kneeling figures, one of "Dns Johannes," and the other "Dna Isabella," each wearing a surcoat of arms. The lady's arms seem to be those of Fitz Warine (or perhaps Leighton). In 1790 a brief was issued for re-building the chapel. In 1791 the nave and western tower were built, chiefly at the cost of Sir Richard Hill, 2nd Bart. In 1879 the chancel and vestry on the south side, and the south porch, were erected, the gallery was removed, and other alterations were made. The font is octagonal, with quatrefoil panels. The Communion plate was given in 1838 by General Lord Hill. There is also an 18th century Communion cup, and a paten which may have been the cover of an earlier chalice. (See Cranage's Churches of Shropshire, II., 736). The Church Goods return of 1553 shows that there were then remaining in the chapel two small bells and one silver chalice. In 1740 there were two small bells and a sanctus bell, and in 1752 three bells. There is now one bell, cast by Thomas Mears, in 1842. The windows are in memory of the Rev. John Hill, who died 14th June, 1891, and Charlotte, his wife, who died 14th Jan., 1884; Rowland Clegg, 3rd Viscount Hill, died 30th March, 1895; Brian Hubert Hill, died 18th Dec., 1893; and Robert Gill, died 1st Jan., 1889. A mural tablet at the end of the nave is in memory of George Downward, who died 19th March, 1809, and Elizabeth, his wife, who died 19th Oct., 1827. The Chapel was licensed for marriages in 1905.

The Rectors of Hodnet are of course the Incumbents of Weston. The Registers, however, contain the names of several of the Curates of Weston, which are here given:—

The Parish Register Abstract of 1831 contains this account of the Weston Registers:—"Weston under Redcastle C. No. I., Bap., Bur., 1565—1725; Marr., 1574—1725. No. II., Bap., Bur., Marr., 1725—1753, Bap. continued, 1754—1812, interrupted by No. III., Bur., 1726—1812. Since 1753, Marr. have been solemnized at Hodnet, the Mother Church."

Vol. I. is a parchment book of 30 leaves, 14 inches by 6 inches, in a parchment cover, and extends from 1565 to 1725. The front cover, the paper fly-leaves, and the first nine leaves of the Register are decayed through damp. The earlier part was copied by William Hyll, curate in 1616, from a paper book written by Humfrey Fletcher, a former curate. It is all in English, except two entries in 1695, which are in Latin. The Churchwardens' names are generally given. A good deal is in the parish clerk's illiterate handwriting Samuel Orpe, curate, wrote it from 1671 to 1682; and in 1693 William Handley, parish clerk, makes a new heading, and keeps the Register.

Vol. II. is a parchment volume, interleaved with paper, in a brown leather cover, 15½ inches by 8½ inches. It contains marriages from 1725 to 1753, and baptisms from 1725 to 1812. All the marriages, and the baptisms from 1725 to 1775, are on smaller paper leaves, 12½ inches by 8 inches, inserted at the beginning of the Register. The remaining baptisms 1776 to 1812, fill only nine leaves of the book. The earlier part is in an illiterate hand; after 1742 it is well written. The volume also contains population statistics in 1811 and 1821, a Seat Roll dated 1792, and a Terrier. On the cover is written: "No. 2. The Register of Weston under Redcastle for Baptisms, &c."

Vol. III. is a paper book 15 inches by 10 inches, in a parchment cover; and it contains burials from 1726 to 1812. The burials from 1726 to 1783 are on smaller paper leaves, 12½ inches by 8 inches, inserted in the book. The burials 1784 to 1812 fill only four leaves of the book. All the remaining leaves are blank. Outside the cover is this:—"No. 3. The Register of Burials in the Chapelry of Weston under Red-Castle in the Parish of Hodnet, and the County of Salop."

The principal family that is named in these volumes is that of Hill, styled "Bart." and "Esq." Other families styled "esq." or "Mr." are those of Downward, Dicken, and Collier.

It only remains to add that the Register was transcribed by Mr. T. R. Horton, and was collated with the original Register by the Rev. W. G. D. Fletcher, F.S.A., who also has seen the proof-sheets through the press. It is now printed with the kind permission of the Rev. J. A. Sharrcock, the present Rector of Hodnet.
